

The Economics of Liberty

LECTURE SERIES

Fall 2014

FREE
ADMISSION
LIMITED SPACE

Thursday, October 2, 1-2pm
Friday, October 3, 9am-3:30pm
Saturday October 4, 9am-12noon

Harry C. Moore Library

The College of The Bahamas, Oakes Field Campus

■ THURSDAY SESSIONS

The Moral Foundations of the Free Society: Liberty, Responsibility, and the Justice of Private Property and the Market Economy

The Meaning and Morality of Market Competition and the Profit and Loss System

■ FRIDAY SESSIONS

Why Socialism Failed: The Ethical and Economic Bankruptcy of the Planned Society

Understanding the Economics of the Political Process: Ethical Entrepreneurs or Crony Capitalists?

The Ethics and Economics of Redistribution: Are We Helping Our Fellow Men through the Welfare State?

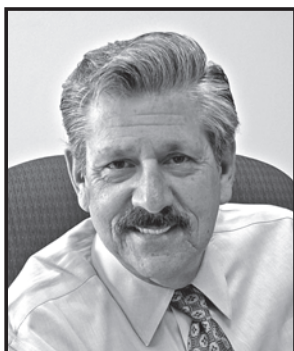

The Fiscal Crisis of Our Time: The Ethics and Economics of Income Taxes, VAT, and Deficit Spending

■ SATURDAY SESSIONS

The Economics and Ethics of Money and Inflation

"Free Markets as Steward of the Environment"

"Liberty and the Moral Dignity of Humankind"

LECTURE LEADER

Dr. Richard Ebeling, former President of The Foundation for Economic Education (FEE) and currently the BB&T Professor of Ethics and Free Enterprise Leadership at The Citadel in Charleston, South Carolina.

TO REGISTER:

email - info@nassauinstitute.org
www.nassauinstitute.org

ONE

All-expense Paid Trip will be awarded to a lucky participant
to attend FEE's
Freedom Academy

Sponsored by:

The Templeton Foundations

